NO FAIR ON SUNDAY.

Federal Court Judges So Decide the Question.

THE INJUNCTION GRANTED.

Judges Woods and Jenkins Agree on the Important Question, but Differ as to Points of Law—Judge Grosscup Disagrees—An Appeal Taken.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The federal court, by a majority vote of 2 to 1, decided to grant the injunction prayed for by the district attorney to restrain the local directory from opening the world's fair gates on Sunday. Judges Woods and Jenkins favored the closing of the gates, while Judge Grosscup held the contrary opinion.

The courtroom was crowded to suffocation with closers and anti-closers when the three judges took their seats on the bench. Judge Woods announced that each member of the court would deliver his own opinion. "It is a matter of regret that we have not had time to reduce our decision to writing," said he, "and each one of us will speak for himself."

In brief, Judge Woods held that the government was in absolute possession of Jackson park and had the right to make whatever rule it pleased concerning the management of the fair; that the Sunday closing rule had not been lawfully repealed, and that it was the duty of the court to grant the injunction prayed for by the district attorney. He believed that an injunction should be issued. In the course of his address, Judge Woods said:

"There is a claim that the local corporation tendered the park to the United States, but the defense prefers a total denial. It is a question to be decided by the act of congress inaugurating the enterprise. The act shows that the legislature and the park commissioners tendered the park to the government, and it is clear that, insofar as it lay in their power, the legislature and the park commissioners made that trade. A constitutional amendment was passed enabling Chicago to raise $5,000,000 for the fair. The adoption of that amendment corroborates this position that the government is in possession of Jackson park. The grounds have been lawfully devoted to the use of the government."

Continuing, Judge Woods said: "There is nothing in the act of congress to override the laws of any state. The general proposition is that when the government takes possession of the grounds within a state, the laws of the state continue to have force only through the United States authority. The same was true at the centennial. It is true that the government has the right to control parks in Illinois, unless they are tendered to and accepted by congress. Congress would have no control over Lincoln park. It has Jackson park, for that has been tendered. My conclusion on that point is, then, that congress has the right to regulate proceedings on those grounds."

"What has congress done in respect to Sunday closing? My conclusion is congress had the power to make regulations concerning the question. March 3, 1893, the government voted $2,500,000 to the fair on the condition that the gift was accepted the fair was to be closed on the first day of the week. In other words, if the money was taken, the commission—it does not say the directors—was to adopt a rule closing the gates on Sunday, thus recognizing and establishing the right of the commission to make this rule. There was acceptance and the rule adopted, and in my opinion it has never been repealed."

Judge Jenkins agreed in the main with Judge Woods, differing with the latter only on minor points of the law. He decides that the injunction must be sued and the fair close on Sunday. He said:

"Any person has a right to annex to a gift any condition that is not illegal or immoral. The appropriation by congress of money to the exposition can be rightfully construed as charitable bequests and it is clear that to such bequests there can be attached conditions which the courts must enforce. The local corporation accepted the money and passed a rule closing the fair on Sunday. It has received a large sum of money as a conditional gift and the conditions must be observed by the donee and a court of chancery, on proper presentation, must see to it that the conditions laid down are enforced. By retaining the $500,000 or more out of the $2,500,000 the United States did no more than it had a right to do, because the national honor is involved."

"The resolution to open the fair on Sunday was not legally passed. The corporation can not change rules once adopted by the commission as soon as the commission's back is turned. As to the state court which has passed on this case, I will say that the United States was not a party in that court. I think that there can be no question but that the United States has a right to use courts of its own jurisdiction to adjudicate matters pertaining to governmental affairs. In my opinion the injunction asked for should issue."

Judge Grosscup delivered the dissenting opinion. He concurred, he said, in the opinion of Judges Jenkins and Woods, that the power to modify rules of the local corporation was given to the commission to protect the national honor. He concurred in the opinion that the exposition was national in its character. But it is characteristic of American thought that such things should be done by the people, with the aid of the government.

"If the power to close the grounds is assured for the government, it must be found in with partnership or contract. Congress has voted $2,500,000 to the fair, and made it a condition of the gift that the fair should be closed on Sunday. It is immaterial whether this was a contract or a donation. The corporation accepted the gift and the conditions, and passed a rule closing the fair on Sundays. Then the government withheld 1,140,000 of the 5,000,000 coins it had agreed to give the corporation. Who knows that the corporation would have accepted the gift and surrendered its views on Sunday closing if it had known that part of the appropriation was to be withheld.

"This law was passed by congress after the acceptance of the former conditional gift. It was a new condition, imposed without the consent of the other party. The construction placed on this act by the law officers of the government attributes to congress a puerility of purpose. The national commission was intrusted with the task of providing jurors of award, and this was as clearly a portion of its duties as anything else that it had done, and the expense should be borne by the commission, as was the cost of classifying the exhibits. This expense should not be saddled on the local corporation by congress. Congress has no power to create indebtedness for the local corporation, and the act of March 3, 1893, was unjustifiable.

"The government has broken faith with the corporation and no court of equity could insist on the corporation observing the hard conditions imposed by the government. The government has no more rights than a private individual and, whether as contractor or donor it should be compelled to live up to its promises. When congress withheld the 1,140,000 sovereign coins the situation changed. The provisions act were as if it were not. The Sunday closing question is of more importance to the local corporation than to the people of the United States. I am of the opinion that the injunction should not issue."

Edward Walker, counsel for the world's fair directory, addressed the court and prayed an appeal to the appellate court, which, he said, is in session. The matter could be definitely decided in a few days. He asked also that the court fix a bond which would act as a supersedeas. He said the gravity of the situation was increased by the decision of the state court on this same question being opposed to the decision of the federal court. There was danger of an unpleasant conflict of authority between the courts. He suggested that it could be arranged to have the case from the state court taken to the state appellate courts, and that both appellate courts might, by their action, definitely settle the matter.

District Attorney Milchrist said he would ask that the order of injunction prayed for by the government be issued.

Judge Woods finally said the court would announce its decision on the subject of appeal and supersedeas in the near future.

If the supersedeas be granted the fair will remain open on Sundays until the court of appeals finally passes on the case.

HE IS A MAN NOW

And Has Remarried the Deserted Bride of His Youth.

VAN WERT, O., June 9.—A romantic wedding, in which a Van Wert young lady figures, has just been celebrated in northern Michigan. Seven years ago Miss Addie Morris, a tall and handsome brunette of this city, was married to Arthur Spencer of Mercer county. Three days after the marriage the young husband left Van Wert, saying he would soon send for his bride. He wrote her a few letters, but soon disappeared altogether.

At the end of three years she obtained a divorce on the ground of willful absence. Seven weeks after obtaining the divorce she married Tom Emerson, an itinerant preacher, who made his home at North Lewisburg, O., with whom she had been acquainted only six weeks. The couple went to North Lewisburg to take up their permanent residence, but, after a few weeks of wedded life, she became dissatisfied with her new husband and returned to her old home in Van Wert, and later obtained a divorce from husband No. 2.

About three weeks ago she went to Alliance, Mich., to visit her brother, who is engaged in the mercantile business there. While in that place, she took a trip to northern Michigan to see husband No. 1, with whom she had been in correspondence for several weeks. He made matters satisfactory by explaining that he was a boy seven years ago when he married her, but he is a man now. A re-engagement was made, and their second marriage speedily followed. They are now spending their honeymoon in the wilds of Michigan.

Ohio Republicans.

COLUMBUS, O., June 9.—Ohio Republicans renominated Governor McKinley for the gubernatorial race. The nomination was by acclamation. Lieutenant Governor Harris was also renominated by acclamation, as was all the present incumbents, as follows: Treasurer, W. T. Cope; attorney general, John K. Richards; judge supreme court, Joseph P. Bradbury; member board public works, Frank J. McCulloch.

Mother Gresham Very Ill.

MOORE'S HILL, Ind., June 9.—Private information received here states that Mrs. Gresham, mother of secretary of state, is very ill at her home in Lanesville, Ind. She is past 80. Her daughter has left for her bedside.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., June 9.—D. J. Fallis, a well-to-do Cincinnati business man, was taken off the Bradford train in a half sensible condition and died in the Erie depot in a few minutes.

LATEST FROM HAWAII

Another Steamer Arrives From Honolulu.

THE ALAMEDA AT SAN FRANCISCO

Claus Spreckles Paid Off by the People. Dynamite Plot Against the Ex-Queen. The United States Flag May Again Be Hoisted—New Treaty Talk.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The steamer Alameda has just arrived from Sydney via Honolulu, bringing advice from Honolulu to June 1.

The $95,000 loan to the government by Claus Spreckles, the immediate payment of which was demanded on May 29, was all subscribed for among business houses on the first instant in about 20 minutes. Spreckles had an interview with the ex-queen on May 31, when it was believed, he proposed to reimburse her on the condition of her giving him 30 years lease at low rates of large tracts of crown lands adjacent to his sugar estates and elsewhere. He expects that annexation would put those lands out of his reach by cutting them up for white settlers. His proposition was not accepted.

About midnight, May 31, three dynamite cartridges with fuses and caps were found close to the ex-queen's premises. They had apparently just been laid there as the discovery was made by a mounted officer, who a few minutes before observed a man holding a bundle under his coat. The man made his escape. It is believed that they were intended for blowing up the neighboring barracks. The palace was being prepared on the 1st inst., for the removal of troops that afternoon and will be put in a state of defense. The former attempt to poison the troops and the present fact seems to call for more scrutiny in their quarters.

What seems to be a very definite report is that instructions were sent by steamer Manowai to Minister Blount to negotiate a treaty of protection, and in a few days to put up the American flag again. Mr. Blount says he is responsible for nothing that leaks out at Washington.

A citizens' guard of probably six companies has been in process of organization very quietly during the past few days. About 300 have already joined. Several hundred Springfield rifles for their use arrived on the Manowai.

President Dole believes the finding of the bomb is proof of the reported conspiracy to restore the queen. The arrest of several suspected royalists will be ordered.

The steamer leaving June 6, it is stated, will carry instructions to Minister Thurston regarding the new treaty.

In retaliation for Spreckles' demand on the government, there is talk of cutting off the subsidy $1,000 per month paid Spreckles' Oceanic steamship line.

After the departure of the British warship Hyacinth for Tahiti, only American men-of-war will be in Hawaiian waters. Two other British warships, however, are expected soon.

The government has shipped $30,000 in gold to London to pay the semi-annual interest on the English million dollar loan incurred by the former government.

FAILURES.

Several More Firms Forced to the Wall.

MILWAUKEE, June 9.—The carriage manufacturing firm of T. H. Brown & Company has made a voluntary assignment. Omar L. Rosenkrans is the assignee, and his bond is fixed at $75,000. The assignment was a decided surprise to the business community. Mr. Brown has been ranked among the successful business men of Milwaukee for many years.

"We assigned," said Mr. Brown, "because we did not have enough money to pay our bills. I can not anticipate the receiver's report with regard to assets and liabilities, but I think there will be more than enough to pay every just debt the firm has."

Chattanooga Crash.

CHATTANOOGA, June 9.—D. B. Loveman, one of the leading dry goods merchants in the south, has filed a deed of trust for the benefit of certain preferred creditors, whose claims aggregate $181,787. In addition, there are numerous general creditors. The assignment includes all the real and personal property of Mr. Loveman, and the assets are estimated at $350,000. Stringency in financial circles is given as the cause of the failure.

Chicago Bank Assigns.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Conrad Niehoff, private banker at 49 LaSalle street, has made an assignment for the benefit of all creditors, which was filed in the county court, transferring the banker's property to Adam W. Jaeger as assignee. Assets are scheduled at $90,000 and liabilities at $60,000. Refusal of the bank through which Niehoff cleared to pay checks caused the trouble. The bank was conducted under the title of Conrad M. Niehoff, but the banker had no associate in the business.

Real Estate Agent Insolvent.

BOSTON, June 9.—Josiah B. Kendall, real estate agent, 53 State street, has gone into insolvency. His liabilities aggregate $379,448.11 and the assets consist of a house at 389 Commonwealth avenue, mortgaged for $33,000, and a disputed claim against the Boston Water Power company amounting to $11,000.

Iron and Steel Firm Fails.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 9.—Bellah & Company, wholesale dealers in iron and steel, have failed.

EULALIE AT THE FAIR.

Spain's Representative Takes In the Columbian Exposition.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The courtesies of the world's fair were yesterday officially extended to the Infanta Eulalie, and the celebration of "Princess Day" in her honor was a complete success. Thousands of flags were displayed on the different buildings, the Spanish colors predominating.

There was a long wait for the immense crowds which surrounded the administration building who had expected the royal visitors at noon, as it was 45 minutes past that hour when General Nelson A. Miles wheeled his big bay horse into the west end of the administration plaza at the head of the procession. It was 12:30 o'clock before the carriages containing the royal party arrived at the west entrance to the midway pleasure. Here the orchard cadets, looking natty in their full dress uniform and their military band, assumed the lead and the march through the pleasure was taken up.

On the way down the famous cosmopolitan quarters the inhabitants and spectators literally packed the street, and gave the infanta a cheerful and respectful salute at close intervals. There was not the enthusiasm expected, the demonstration being more of respect than enthusiasm. The procession entered the main grounds to the north of the women's building. Here a dense mass of women gave the infanta the first really sound applause and cheers of the day, as they moved on.

The line of march was past the transportation building to the north end of mines and mining, where it veered to the east, and, passing up the avenue between mines and electricity building, arrived at the west front of the administration building at 12:45. On the arrival the Michigan cadets and Chicago insurers passed in review before the prince and princess. As soon as the military escort had withdrawn the infanta alighted, and Mayor Harrison, his official capacity, parted from her. She was immediately presented to President Palmer and Lieutenant Governor Davis. Mr. Palmer then extended the courtesies of the exposition and formally welcomed the infanta to the fair.

After a reception to the guests invited to the breakfast and a few others, the party descended so as to reach the banquet hall in pavilion C, where the breakfast given by President Palmer was served. About 50 sat down to the delightfully informal affair.

After the men had been discussed, the party again took their carriages and were driven to the women's building, where a reception was held during the hour between 3 and 4 o'clock.

A voyage was then made up the main lagoon by McMonies fountain and out into the lake. The seas were pretty choppy but the little launch and its distinguished occupants, but all stood the voyage well. The route was down the lake to the north pier, where the launch passed under the bridge and returned to the lagoons. The little boat moved rapidly up to the court of honor, where the royal party disembarked and entered administration building shortly before 6 o'clock. The infanta retired to the rooms of Mrs. Palmer, and after an hour's rest, repaired with the members of her party, escorted by Director General Davis, Palmer and other officials to the private diningroom of Colonel Davis. Here an informal supper was served, after which the entire party reassembled again in President Palmer's room in the east side of administration building and viewed the magnificent fireworks.

The infanta was cheered vociferously by the crowd who saw her about 9 o'clock. About 10 o'clock, when her picture was done in fire, the crowd went wild and yelled and cheered for their royal guest. In response to the cheering the infanta appeared at an open window, leaning upon the arm of President Palmer, and bowed and waved her handkerchief to the sea of faces below. The effect was magical, and the voice of welcome that went up was caught and echoed by crowds in all parts of the grounds.

To add to the indescribable din, the whistle of every engine in machinery hall, and on every steam vessel and engine near the grounds was turned on, and this tumult, which lasted fully 10 minutes, was deafening. Sousa's band, which was playing some fine music, gave it up when their program was half finished, and did not attempt to reopen their concert.

After the fireworks were over the infanta departed for the city. Her carriage left the administration building shortly after 10, followed by the cheers of the greatest crowd that has visited the fair since the grounds were opened.

FIGHTING WHALE.

An Exciting Encounter Between a Whale and Several Fishermen.

SANDWICH, Mass., June 9.—A big fin-back whale lost his bearings and got tangled up in Captain Wilson Perry's fish traps. When Captain Perry and neighbors tackled the whale there was fun. They did not have anything more deadly than a gaff and an ax, and these only served to excite the whale's anger. After receiving a few prods the whale turned and with its tail struck viciously at the boat. Captain Perry struck him a terrific blow with the ax, and it was apparent that he had been severely hurt. He churned the water into a foam with his huge tail, but the boat managed to escape the blows. As the whale turned one of the crew struck him a sharp blow, and the whale disappeared. He then rose under the boat, which he upset, throwing the occupants into the sea. The men clambered on the bottom of the boat. They expected another attack, but the whale had disappeared. Soon he rose to the surface dead. He was towed ashore, and is now on the sandy beach near the entrance to the canal.

FARGO'S BIG FIRE.

The Loss Will Reach Nearly Three Million Dollars.

A NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

The City Half in Ashes and Three Thousand People Are Homeless—A Canadian Convent Damaged to the Extent of One Million Dollars—Other Fire Losses.

FARGO, N. D., June 9.—This city is half in ashes. Three thousand people are homeless. The school houses, churches and public buildings left standing are all utilized as places of shelter for women and children.

Relief trains with wheat, flour and other provisions are arriving from surrounding towns, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Duluth and Milwaukee and other big cities will send liberal contributions of food. Clothing is much needed.

The relief corps organized here have received many reports of people who are missing, and without doubt it will develop a number of lives have been lost.

The fire is under control, though a number of fires are still burning in different parts of the city.

The statement is given out that a meeting of insurance men estimated the loss of insurance property at $2,800,000, and $500,000 more on the outskirts, uninsured. Rates have been so high that little property is insured for over one-third of its value.

A number of business men have already made arrangements to erect new buildings.

No bank vaults have yet been opened.

The district burned over is all the territory north of the Northern Pacific track and up to the Great Northern tracks. It is three blocks wide and five blocks long. Within that radius were all the principal business houses, banks, and a number of the hotels.

The fire started in a small restaurant on Front street. It did not cross the river to Moorhead. The disreputable district known as "Hell's Half-Acre" was burned. All the hotels except two Headquarters, all the banks except the First national, all the groceries except Yerkas & Genry's, all the secret society halls, all the machinery warehouses, except Walter A. Woods, and the Monitor drill, are burned to the ground.

It is next to impossible to get messages by telegraph, as only one wire is in working order.

At a public meeting generous subscriptions were started for the benefit of the sufferers and a large fund has already been raised.

CONVENT BURNED.

A Million Dollar Fire Loss Near Montreal, Canada.

MONTREAL, June 9.—The magnificent Ville Marie convent at Notre Dame De Grace, two miles north of Montreal, the largest establishment of its kind in America, was almost totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The total loss will amount to more than $1,000,000, with an insurance of $100,000.

The fire started in that portion of the convent known as the "Mother House," and is supposed to have caught from a small stove which plumbers were using while at work in the upper floor, and which was left burning while the men were at dinner.

The "Mother House" was occupied by Congregational nuns, one of the leading orders in America, and is the place where all novices are prepared for future religious duties. There were about 550 novices, together with a large number of sisters and servants, in the "Mother House" at the time the fire was discovered, all of whom were compelled to make hasty departure.

The convent school, which from its historic associations was the most prized portion of the group of buildings, and which contained nearly 300 pupils at the time that the fire was discovered, was saved, after heroic work by the Montreal fire department.

When the fire was at its height the dome of the "Mother House" fell with a terrible crash, carrying everything before it.

Chief Benoit of the Montreal fire brigade, who was working in close proximity to the walls, was almost suffocated by the smoke, and was removed in a fainting condition. Fireman Dufoind was badly hurt by being hit with flying bricks, and was taken to the hospital, where it is thought he will die.

FIRE IN PITTSBURG.

Three Buildings Destroyed and Several Others Damaged.

PITTSBURG, June 9.—Fire broke out in a nest of frame buildings in the block bounded by Pennsylvania, Euclid and Highland avenues and Kirkwood street yesterday. Three buildings with contents were destroyed and three houses seriously damaged. The loss will reach $25,000. Insurance about half.

The fire originated in the harness shop of Charles Beltz. The cause is not known. The flames spread rapidly, and before they were under control the feed store of Peter Beck, Charles Beltz's harness factory and Samuel Moores' blacksmith shop were destroyed, and Ross' meat market, William Reese's dwelling and Samuel Moores' dwelling were badly damaged.

Death of a Ball Player.

NEW YORK, June 9.—William J. Collins, a well known base ball player, died yesterday at his late residence in Brooklyn of typhoid fever. Collins played several games as catcher for the New York club, and last season played with several clubs in Florida and other southern states.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Fair weather, wind shifting to southwest.

"The Mason Ford Company, is again on deck and has made a bid for the employment of a majority of the convicts in the Frankfort penitentiary," exclaims the editor of the Ashland Signal. But they didn't stay there long. The bid was rejected and they were ordered to remove their tools from the "pen."

PERSONAL.

Mr. A. M. J. Cochran is in Detroit on legal business.

Judge Thomas, of Vanceburg, spent Thursday in Maysville.

Mrs. Dr. W. H. Lawwill, of Danville, is visiting at Washington.

Hon. Thomas H. Paynter, M. C., was down from Greenup yesterday.

Chief of Police Fitzgerald was the guest of Lieutenant Bolan, of Covington, yesterday.

Miss Edna Belle Miller, of Atlanta, Ga., is visiting Miss Mary Hall, of Forest avenue.

Mrs. Joseph Ryan, of Salt Lick, Lewis County, is visiting her son, Mr. John F. Ryan.

Mrs. E. B. Cake arrived yesterday from Missouri, where she has been visiting one of her daughters.

Mr. Clarence Nugent arrived home yesterday from Tennessee, where he has been attending school.

Mr. Frank L. Winn, of this city, was among the Kentuckians who registered at the World's Fair Wednesday.

Mr. George Doniphan, of Augusta, was in Maysville Wednesday attending to some business in the Circuit Court.

Miss Daisy P. Taylor, who has been visiting at Washington for some time, left for Bowling Green on Wednesday.

Miss Mary Spilman, teacher of music at Hayswood the past year, left yesterday afternoon for her home in Garrard County.

Mr. Evan Lloyd, of Germantown, was at Lexington yesterday to attend the commencement of Kentucky University. His son, Mr. Henry Lloyd, was one of the graduates.

May Be Severely Dealt With.

A special from Flemingsburg says: "Ben Shepard, Jr., a middle-aged mulatto, was arrested Wednesday night on suspicion of having been the ruffian who has been terrorizing this community of late by entering the rooms of several prominent ladies. He was caught prowling through the house of L. Boyden several days ago, and his shoes fit the tracks left by the villain who entered Miss Kehoe's room Tuesday night and frightened her so. He is now in jail, and can give no account of his whereabouts on that night, except that he was drunk, and did not know where he was. Much excitement over the matter prevails, and he may be severely dealt with."

The BULLETIN had an item yesterday in reference to this matter. Miss Kehoe was awakened on the night in question by some one grasping her wrists. Her screams aroused her sister and the neighbors, but the fiend made his escape through the rear door. If Shepard is the guilty party he wasn't too drunk to realize his danger just at that time. It is to be hoped the authorities have the right party and that he will receive the punishment he deserves.

Slashed Him With a Knife.

During a quarrel between Jos. Warder and Amos Riggs at Farrow's distillery, Riggs made a slash at Warder with a knife, cutting him on the neck. The wound is not considered dangerous. Riggs is an ex-convict, having served a term for killing a man named Black at Mt. Gilead. He escaped, and is still at large.

A "special" from Mt. Carmel to the Cincinnati Post exaggerates the affair.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Representative Halbert Down on Free Passes—Other Matters of Interest.

Representative Halbert, of Lewis County, has introduced in the House an act prescribing penalties against railroads, steamboats and other common carriers for giving free passes and selling at reduced rates, not common to the public, tickets for transportation to State, district, city, town and county officers, members of the General Assembly and Judges; and to prohibit such persons and officers from accepting and using such tickets for transportation.

The Committee on Codes reported favorably Senate bill 244, amending the section providing that in every action against a common carrier the summons may be served in any county upon the defendant's chief officer or agent, or it may be served in the county wherein the action is brought upon the defendant's chief officer or agent who resides therein; or if the defendant operate a railroad, it may be served upon defendant's passenger or freight agent, stationed at, or nearest to, the county seat of the county in which the action is brought. Ordered to second reading and printed.

The Committee on Internal Improvements reported favorably the Goebel bill concerning turnpike road bonds issued, or to be issued, under laws heretofore enacted, and taxes to be levied to pay the same.

The House has passed the bill making it lawful for the professors of any medical college incorporated under the laws of the State to procure the unclaimed body of any person dying within the State for the purpose of dissection or examination and advancement of science, and providing that such body shall be decently buried thereafter by the professor when not demanded by relatives or friends.

The House has passed the bill apportioning the State into seven Appellate districts.

The Conference Committee on the Senatorial redistricting bill sent up its report through Mr. Hart, of Fleming. The report was adopted and the bill as amended was passed. The effect of the bill is to make at least two and perhaps more additional Democratic districts.

The Senate adopted a resolution withdrawing from the hands of the Governor the fourth class city charter bill, in order that it may be amended so as to conform to the Governor's construction of the Constitution in regard to the section making the payment of taxes a qualification for suffrage.

In the House Thursday Mr. Hart's bill to authorize the levy and collection of taxes in school districts for erecting new school houses was favorably reported by the Education Committee and ordered printed.

The resolution to dispense with the morning roll call was defeated.

The joint resolution providing for collating, compiling, classifying, arranging and indexing and editing the General Statutory laws of the State by a joint committee of four of the two houses, the work to be done after adjournment, and and then reported to the next General Assembly was adopted by the House yesterday.

A BIG TOBACCO PATCH.

Leslie Combs, of Fayette County, Cultivating 390 Acres of the Weed.

Says the Lexington Transcript: "One of the biggest enterprises in Fayette County is that of Leslie Combs. It will be remembered that he bought several months ago the beautiful and fertile farm of Major Thomas Shelby. As soon as the purchase was consummated he set to work with a large force of hands, removing the timber, of which there was a great deal, from the ground and converting it into lumber with which to build tobacco barns. As a result the farm has been the scene of bustling activity ever since it came into possession of its present owner. Mr. Combs had 400 men and boys at work last week in the field. He will set altogether 390 acres of tobacco, which will be the largest tobacco patch ever cultivated in the Bluegrass region. If this should be a good crop year it ought to yield him 1,000 pounds to the acre, which at the prevailing price would make something like $40,000 for the entire crop. This is tobacco raising on a big scale, and it is hoped Mr. Combs will make a complete success of the gigantic venture."

Sons of Veterans.

At the annual meeting of the Kentucky Division, Sons of Veterans, in this city yesterday, the following officers were elected:

Colonel—J. L. Todd, Maysville.
Lieutenant Colonel—W. N. Evans, Augusta.
Major—L. C. Neff, Louisville.
Division Council—Joseph Crawford and Elbert Pangburn, Maysville, and Elsworth Yates, Augusta.

The meeting closed with a banquet and hop at Neptune Hall last night.

Academy of St. Francis de Sales.

The highest averages attained by the pupils during the month of May were as follows:

WOOD-WINTER.

Handsome Wedding of a Happy Couple Maysville Furnishing the Groom.

The Covington Commonwealth gives the following account of a nuptial event at that place, of which brief mention was made yesterday:

"Shakespeare's words occurred when the 'wooing and winning' of one of our Covington ladies was mentioned.

"She is beautiful, therefore may be wooed; She is a woman, therefore, may be won."

"The bride of Wednesday, Miss Pearl Dorothy Winter, was beautiful, and right royally has she been wooed and won by Mr. Stockton Lane Wood.

"The wedding with appropriate appointments was consummated at the lovely home of the bride's parents on Powell street, in the presence of relatives and a few friends. The ceremony was performed with especial grace by Rev. Mr. Noel, of Madison avenue Presbyterian Church, of which church the bride is a member. This clergyman has a special service which is admired for its sanctity and beauty. The ring was used in the betrothal.

"The bride entered the pretty drawing room, which had been modestly decorated with flowers, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Karl Winter, and the groom with his brother, Mr. Harry Wood. Delicious strains were played after the wedding march by Michael's band during the ceremony.

"The bride was clad in the utmost simplicity; her gown was a handsome embroidered white swiss; her shapely head unadorned; her coiffure being exceedingly simple but becoming. The picture of the bride has been taken for Mrs. Cleveland, and many claim the likeness is very striking. She is tall, dignified, full of musical intelligence, and every expression betrays her cultured mind, warm heart and refined ideas and opinions. She is the pride of her father, the companion really of her devoted mother, whom she resembles in personal appearance.

"The groom is a prominent citizen and druggist of Maysville, a gentleman of high social position.

"After the ceremony the bridal party and friends were invited to partake of a delightful supper. The bridal table was exquisite in pink effects—roses, waxen lights of the delicate tint, with pink caps.

"Mr. and Mrs. Wood amid a shower of congratulations left for an eastern trip. They will return by way of Covington and make a brief visit, then go to Maysville, their future home."

Among those in attendance at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George T. Wood, parents of the groom, Mrs. Charles Ball and daughter, of this city, relatives of the bride, Miss Minnie Boyd; Mrs. Crumbaugh, Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Reese, of Augusta; Mrs. Drennon, of Denver City; and Mrs. James Haven, of Birmingham.

The happy couple will be at home after July 1, at 339 Forest avenue.

The young ladies of the Epworth League will entertain with a social this evening in the lecture room of the church. All their friends will be cordially welcomed.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says the big parade of the Mystic Shrines, to be held in that city next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, promises to be the grandest pageant ever seen in Ohio. The sight of 4,000 nobles, all in full evening dress, wearing red Arabic fezes on their heads, will be a grand spectacle in itself. But in addition to this there will be a magnificent display of fireworks all along the line of march. Several thousand dollars will be expended in the fireworks, which will be a series of novelties.

MR. E. P. BERRY, formerly of Mayslick, has sold his interest in the firm of Berry & Jefferson, liverymen, of Cynthiana, to Messrs. Wilson & Monroe, of Mt. Olivet.

EVERY member of the Sunday school of the M. E. Church, South, is requested to be at the church to-morrow morning at 9:30 o'clock to practice for Children's Day service.

MRS. JOHN TAYLOR, who has been visiting at Fern Leaf, received a telegram Wednesday advising her of the illness of her husband at Bowling Green, and left for that city at once.

CLARK COUNTY tobacco men say that the cut worms are worse this spring than ever before known. Some fields have been planted over several times, and the ravages of the worms still continue.

THE subject of discourse next Sunday night at the Christian Church will be: "For What Was Professor Briggs Silenced, and on What Grounds Will He be Permitted to Resume the Functions of a Presbyterian Minister?"

THE following sign is posted on a certain inclosed tract of land in Edmonson County: "If any man or woman's cows or oxen gets in these here oats, his or her tail will be cut off as the case may be. I am a christian and pay mi taxes, but damn a man a who lets his critters run loose."

WHILE in the wholesale market a few days ago Mrs. L. V. Davis embraced an opportunity to purchase a large stock of elegant millinery at a special bargain. The goods are just beautiful, and Mrs. Davis will give all customers the benefit of the low price at which they were bought.

BALLENGER'S stock of sterling silver goods is one of the most complete and finest displayed anywhere. It embraces knives, forks, spoons, fancy articles and novelties, and should be seen to be appreciated. When you start out to buy anything in that line or any article of jewelry, don't fail to call on him.

POGUE-PATTERSON.

Marriage of an Ex-Maysvillian at Louisville—Particulars of the Nuptials.

Brief mention was made yesterday of the marriage of Mr. John Fleming Pogue and Miss Nellie Phillips Patterson at Louisville the day before. The nuptials were solemnized at 1 p. m. by Rev. E. T. Perkins, at St. Paul's, Episcopal Church, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The Post, in its account of the wedding, says: "Miss Patterson is a most beautiful and amiable young lady, and wore a becoming gown of old rose grenadine over a silk foundation of the same color, with a hat trimmed in a wreath of pink roses. There were neither attendants nor ushers, and the bride and groom marched to the altar unaccompanied. Professor George B. Selby presided at the organ and played the wedding marches. At the conclusion of the wedding service the bride and groom were driven to the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. L. Patterson, 848 Sixth street, where a wedding breakfast was partaken of with the immediate relatives of the families present. At 3 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Pogue left for a three-weeks' sojourn at Asheville, N. C. After their return they will be at home at 30 Harvey avenue, Cincinnati. Miss Patterson is the daughter of the late Mr. Wm. Patterson, the pork man. She is a blonde, and since she was graduated at Miss Nold's, about two years ago, has been very popular in society. Mr. Pogue is a native of Maysville, and has been practicing law in Cincinnati for the past five years."

THE ENGLISH SPARROW.

A Use at Last Discovered For This Little Pest—Eat Him.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The agricultural department has been giving considerable attention to that national pest, the English sparrow. One of its officials, Professor Hill, furnishes a short and interesting article about the pestiferous little bird, and suggests means by which its numbers may be diminished. The professor's contribution is as follows:

"It does not seem to be generally known that the English sparrow is a superior article of food; indeed, a real delicacy. Such, however, is the fact, and the bird is growing in favor daily with those who have overcome their prejudices sufficiently to make a fair trial. Throughout Europe the sparrow always has been held in high esteem as a table bird, and in Great Britain sparrow pie has come to be regarded as fairly typical of all that is savory and appetizing.

"Even under ordinary circumstances the flesh is well flavored and tender, though rarely fat, and when in early autumn the sparrow congregates on stubble fields or ripening grain their flesh becomes more juicy and takes on a richer flavor. The young at the time of leaving the nest are about two-thirds as heavy as their parents, and if properly prepared form the most tempting morsels imaginable.

"Except during heavy snows sparrows seldom lack for food, and in many places the supply is superabundant. Wherever the so-called wild rice flourishes the English sparrow has a continuous feast while the seed is ripening, and where this rich food occurs in the neighborhood of populous cities, as near Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, the sparrows resort to it in swarms, and after a few days of feasting might be mistaken readily for rice birds or ortolans.

"Of course, the epicure would detect the fraud at once, but to the majority the flavor is new and rich and the experiment worth repeating. Unlike the true rice bird or bobolink, the sparrow does not take on fat readily, even when food is superabundant. Probably its restlessness and intense activity have something to do with it, but whatever the cause the fact is attested.

"Foreigners familiar with sparrows from childhood have learned that their flavor and condition can be improved very materially by keeping them caged for a few days after capture and feeding them with wheat, oatmeal, corn-bread and similar food, and in all probability the time is not far distant when this practice will become general among those interested in the sale of the bird as an article of food."

DUKE OF VERAGUA.

His Visit to Columbus Capital a Great Success.

COLUMBUS, O., June 9.—The visit of the Duke of Veragua to this city thus far has been a great success. When the special car occupied by the ducal party was backed down to the West Broad street station the party was met by the various reception committees. The procession was immediately formed, headed by the barracks' band. Behind them in turn came the officers of the Fourteenth regiment and the Junia Hussars mounted and in full uniform. Following them came the 12 carriages containing the ducal party.

The procession moved slowly east on Broad street, amid the cheers of the multitude. The duke with uncovered head and pleasant smile bowed his acknowledgment from each side of the carriage. The party soon arrived at the handsome mansion of Henry T. Chittenden, whose guest the ducal party will be during the stay in Columbus.

In the afternoon the duke reviewed the parade of school children, 15,000 being in line. He was then tendered a reception by the Columbus club.

Mayor Karb, in a brief but expressive speech, presented the duke a token of the freedom of the city in the shape of a golden key. The key presented was a beautiful piece of work of solid gold. It is about six inches in length, and rests in a case which has been made for it. The key was elaborately engraved. In the middle of it is a shield on which is engraved the Spanish coat-of-arms. The inscription is as follows: "Christopher Columbus, 1492—Columbus, Ohio, 1893." The case in which it rests is lined with Spanish and United States flags.

Governor McKinley gave the duke a cordial welcome to the state. The duke responded in a brief speech, which was inaudible to all but a few on account of the crowd.

This afternoon the grand parade will take place, and the ducal party will start on their eastern trip in the evening. The city is handsomely decorated with American and Spanish flags and bunting.

Fatal Runaway Accident.

TURTON, Ind., June 9.—While the wife of Ebner Phares, a retired merchant and ex-Republican candidate for county treasurer, was returning home from a visit in the country, her horse became frightened and ran away, throwing her from the buggy into a barbed-wire fence, severing a large artery. She died in about 15 minutes. Her son was with her, and escaped with but little injury.

Death of a Divine.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 9.—Rev. O. R. Blue, D. D., of the Methodist church, died at Greensboro yesterday of heart failure. He was a member of the secession convention of Alabama in 1861 and has represented Alabama in the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church south. He was about 70 years of age.

Cholera Still Spreading.

PARIS, June 9.—Two fresh cases of cholera were reported yesterday in Toulon. A woman who was stricken at 10 o'clock in the morning, died at noon. A government specialist has been sent to Certe to ascertain and report on the nature of the epidemic there.

PASSENGER TRAIN HELD UP.

The Robbers Made a Mistake and Got Nothing.

OTTUMWA, Ia., June 9.—Two masked men held up passenger train No. 12, coming east on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, at Nodaway, a small station west of Corning. The men forced the engineer and fireman to stop out of the cab, detached the engine, and after running it down the track for a mile, they stopped.

Here they entered the baggage car, asked for the express box. They were informed that the train carried passengers only. At this one of the men exclaimed with an oath that they supposed they had boarded the Denver express, and they both disappeared.

Another One Reported.

St. Louis, June 9.—A Mobile and Ohio train is reported to have been robbed and the express messenger killed near South St. Louis. Particulars at present unobtainable.

Prisoners Escaped.

MARIETTA, O., June 9.—There was a wholesale jail delivery at the county jail here last night. When the sheriff went to lock up the cells at 9 p. m. the prisoners assaulted him. Three convicted prisoners and two others awaiting trial made their escape. They were Wylie Green, Charles Schuter, S. Black and two prisoners named Bates and Fagan. They went to West Virginia.

Killed His Wife and Shot Himself.

DOVER, Me., June 9.—Greenwood C. Pray of Guilford, a young man of 24 years, shot and killed his wife, then shot himself at Shirley yesterday. The couple separated four weeks ago on account of family trouble. His mother has been insane for years. Two small children survive, one an infant. Pray is still living.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach."

CARLOS MARTIN, D. D., New York City.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

A CORN MILL FOR SALE.

I will offer my Roller Corn Mill at Sardis for sale at public auction on Saturday, June 10th, 1893, at 2 o'clock p. m. The Mill is new throughout, and enjoys a good trade. Sale to take place on the premises. At the same time and place I will sell my Hearse and Undertaker's Supplies. The hearse is also new—has been used but once. Terms—One-half cash; balance in six and twelve months. Good security required on deferred payments. I have moved away from Sardis and this is my reason for selling.

H. M. PYLES, Sardis, Ky.

DAILY BULLETIN:

You know how it is your self. Doesn't this picture bring up the good days of your youth? How we did enjoy the turkey mother roasted! Well, let us be thankful for the rare blessings vouchsafed us to-day, and with more mature judgment HENRY ORT proposes your good health and invites your attention to the proverb,

"Enough"

Is as Good as a Feast."

But at the same time he invites your attention to his stock of goods, such as
